DOCUMENT PRODUCTION FOR FFA BY BILL TATTERSALL AND ALAN KIBBLER
INTRODUCTION AND TRAINING PROGRAM SUMMARY

WELCOME!

Officiating is both a rewarding and challenging profession, one that is essential for the maintenance and continuing growth of our game. After all - no officials means no games.

This FFA Futsal Level 3 Referee Training Program is a two-part introductory level program. Part 1 [Pre-officiating] will investigate ethical issues surrounding officiating, introduce you to the Laws of the Game, and examine some basic refereeing techniques. It will also begin the coverage of the Introductory Level Officiating General Principles [OGPs] as specified by the Australian Sports Commission. Part 1 can also be undertaken by anyone whose interest does not extend to officiating but who wants to develop an understanding of the Laws and obtain a theoretical referee certificate.

PLEASE NOTE THAT THE COMPLETION OF PART 1 DOES NOT QUALIFY YOU TO BEGIN OFFICIATING

Part 2 is for those of you who wish to become active match officials. Once you complete Part 1 you should join a FFA recognised Futsal referees' group. As a member you will be able to complete the OGPs, develop your practical skills during introductory officiating experiences, and expand your theoretical knowledge. There are pre-officiating units to complete before picking up a whistle or operating a timing device as an active match official.

The FFA Australian Officiating Development Schedule defines the progression of Futsal referees from Level 3 to Level 1. As it is under development the following are statements of intention.

FUTSAL REFEREE DEVELOPMENT - SUMMARY

LEVEL 3: THEME - INTRODUCTION TO OFFICIATING

Referees who complete Part 1 and the specified practical units of Part 2 of this program are qualified to officiate at matches from junior to the lower divisions of adult Futsal. Once they complete the remaining program units they are qualified FFA Level 3 Futsal referees. This qualification was previously called ‘Class 3’. Part 1 of the program [theory] is also designed for people who do not wish to become match officials.

LEVEL 2: THEME - SKILL CONSOLIDATION; and

LEVEL 1: THEME - ADVANCED AND SENIOR OFFICIATING

Both programs will be developed during 2010-11. They will focus on the development of officials for senior Futsal. It is anticipated that access to appointments in Senior State competitions will be required. The programs will demand high levels of commitment and dedication. Physical and mental demands will be high; continuing personal analysis and monitoring will be essential; an understanding of the finer law interpretations will be needed; and high quality player management and communication skills will be crucial. It is expected that units will cover: advanced foul recognition and misconduct; communication skills; team work; player management and confrontation; and the identification of the qualities of elite referees. Theory Law examinations and practical assessments will complete the programs.
PROGRAM STRUCTURE AND CONTENT

This competency based training accreditation program [CBT] [ASC, 2008, p23] meets the Australian Sports Commission’s National Officiating Accreditation Scheme [NOAS] requirements. The program has been granted NOAS registration [September 2008].

Each professional development module or unit covers one or more of the Futsal Laws as well as incorporating review and revision components. Each unit has identified competencies that you will need to display to complete the unit. In some cases groups of units have a major assessment tool, such as the examination that concludes Part 1 and reveals your knowledge and basic interpretations of the Futsal Laws. As the program progresses your presenters are likely to encourage you to raise issues about particular Laws; or about officiating in general.

The program can be completed in approximately fourteen hours face to face tuition. This will vary depending on the support available to participants [mentors; experienced match officials; instructors, etc], previous experience as a Football official and access to competitions suitable for new officials. It may be possible to complete some of the exercises at home.

As well as concentrating on the Laws of the Game units also study selected ASC OGP's. The latter closely examine the ethical and professional expectations of match officials, their role expectations, legal requirements and related issues.

Practical units make up the bulk of Part 2. Elements of an officials role such as signalling, teamwork, application and interpretation of the Laws and a range of other issues will be studied. Many of these also have important OGP's attached to them. You will be expected to develop basic communication skills; demonstrate an understanding of and an ability to deal with conflict; recognise and deal with safety issues; create reports; and comprehend the implications of your rights and responsibilities as well as those of other participants.

You must complete specified pre-officiating units before you can be appointed as a match official. Once you have done this you will be able to officiate whilst completing the remaining units. These will include formal appointments to matches as a timekeeper, third referee and/or second referee.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING AND CURRENT COMPETENCIES

In general, FFA encourages participants to submit details of prior learning and current competencies which may lead to the granting of program exemptions.

Conversion arrangements: It is anticipated that some Futsal Level 3 participants will hold current FFA Football [field] officiating qualifications, will be active referees, and may therefore be eligible for some unit or component exemptions. If you fall into this category make this known to your presenter or the program organisers who will provide guidance. However, it must be stressed that you may need to demonstrate that you hold the competencies associated with any and all components for which you are seeking exemption.

REVISION SHEETS

Program revision sheets are provided for you at the back of this Manual. Your presenters will remind you about homework exercises based on these sheets and other tasks.
COMPETENCY STATEMENTS
Program participants who complete Part 1 [competencies 1 - 4 only] and Part 2 of this program will be able to exhibit the following competencies.

UNIT 1: INTRODUCTION; ETHICS AND PROFESSIONALISM

LEARNING OUTCOMES
On completion of this unit you will be able to:

- outline the broad ethical and professional responsibilities of a match official;
- describe and apply the principles of honesty, integrity and ethical conduct;
- summarise how people can be treated with integrity, respect and empathy, regardless of gender, race, disability or age;
- describe the requirements and implications of FFA’s Code of Ethics;
- define the concept of safety as it applies to these Laws;

UNIT CONTENTS
INTRODUCTION
You receive this participants’ Workbook + Resource Manual. The following elements will then be covered during a brief program introduction:

- Program administration – places, times, etc
- Fees
- Your roles and active involvement
- Revision sheets and other Homework exercises
- Raising questions, solving problems
- Australian Officiating Development Schedule
- FFA certification for Parts 1 and 2

ETHICS, RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF MATCH OFFICIALS
1. The fact that you have enrolled in this program suggests you may already have some views about officiating. Briefly outline your approach to officiating including your goals as an official; how athletes, coaches, administrators and spectators should be treated; and where you stand on fair play issues [eg. sledging; spirit of the game]. If you don’t intend to officiate say what you think a referee’s approach to the above should be.
2. Where would you source information on a particular aspect of Futsal officiating?

........................................................................................................................................................................
........................................................................................................................................................................

3. As noted earlier this program makes frequent reference to the ASC’s Introductory Level Officiating General Principles [OGPs]. These are explicit and essential components of a match official’s preparation and should be treated with seriousness and care. This unit provides an early introduction to these concepts, many of which will be revisited during the examination of specific Laws and in Part 2 units.

We’ll check out the Rights and Responsibilities of Match Officials. Note examples of Rights.

........................................................................................................................................................................
........................................................................................................................................................................

4. Rights always have associated Responsibilities. We’ll identify and record a few responsibilities including your legal responsibilities when officiating.

........................................................................................................................................................................
........................................................................................................................................................................
........................................................................................................................................................................
........................................................................................................................................................................

5. Now refer to the relevant sections of the FFA Code of Conduct. You’ll see that some sections apply only to specified membership groups, for example players. FFA requires match officials to accept and sign this Code when seeking accreditation. We’ll consider the implications of accepting this Code.

........................................................................................................................................................................
6. The principles of honesty, integrity, and ongoing self improvement will now be examined. List and discuss simple definitions and examples. [Elements will be revisited in Part 2]

7. Expand this to include ...empathy regardless of gender, race, disability or age. [ASC 2005 p.6]

‘I wanted to have a career in sports when I was young, but I had to give it up. I'm only six feet tall, so I couldn't play basketball. I'm only 190 pounds, so I couldn't play football. And I have 20-20 vision, so I couldn't be a referee.’

Jay Leno
[Host of NBC’s The Tonight Show]
1. Brief Review

Now’s the time to ask questions and share issues jogged by the first unit. Once this has happened your presenter will provide a broad summary of the key powers and duties of referees. Note broad elements below - subsequent tasks will provide more detail.

2. Implementing Referees’ Roles

You will be helped to work through the following four issues. As you do so make notes under each heading and share your thoughts with the class.

   a. Identify desirable characteristics of referees

   b. Professionalism and ethics should help guide us as referees. How?
c. Personal appearance and demeanour - identify five steps you can take to ensure that your personal appearance and demeanour as a match official are wholly professional.

--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

d. Physical and mental preparation for officiating - how can you prepare yourself for officiating?

3. Real-life Problem Solving Exercise

Think back to our discussions about professionalism. Here is a scenario to chew over.

You have been appointed to referee the Hotshots v Koolkids grand final this weekend. The Hotshots president rings you a couple of days before the game. He hints - not very subtly - that if you were to favour his team in the game there will be some personal benefits to be gained for yourself. What will you do?

--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
4. Consolidating Your Understanding

Use your Law book to discover which items are part of the referee’s and second referee’s powers and duties and which are not. Tick the correct items ✓; cross ✗ the wrong items; put [R1] in the box if this task is granted only to the [first] referee.

☐ 1. Lead the teams onto the pitch
☐ 2. Change a decision after you have restarted the match
☐ 3. Ensure that a player bleeding from a wound leaves the pitch
☐ 4. Punish the more serious of two offences that occurred at the same time
☐ 5. Treat injured players
☐ 6. Enforce the Laws of the Game
☐ 7. Ensure the match ball meets the requirements of Law 6
☐ 8. Show the red card to any team official in the technical area guilty of abuse
☐ 9. Act as timekeeper if a timekeeper is not on duty
☐ 10. Refuse to allow a player to play if you know the player is suspended
☐ 11. Ignore a foul committed by a player who is just getting his own back ☐ 12. Stop match to allow treatment of a player you believe is slightly injured
☐ 13. Apply sanctions against players guilty of cautionable or send off offences ☐ 14. Accept other ref’s decisions regarding Law infringements you didn’t see ☐ 15. Stop, suspend or terminate the match because of outside interference
☐ 16. Stop match to allow treatment of a player you believe is seriously injured
☐ 17. Dismiss the second referee for undue interference or improper conduct ☐ 18. Provide authorities with appropriate reports
☐ 19. Decide the result of a game by the toss of a coin
☐ 20. Apply the Advantage rule

Double check your Law book
Correct any errors
If you had any errors try to work out why an answer was wrong
5. Status of the Referees
   a. There are two important points; Law 5 stresses that:

   The referee and the second referee “...have full authority to enforce the Law.” [FIFA 2008: Circular 1149, p.5]

   …and that merging the old Law 6 [The second referee] with Law 5 [The referee] to create a new Law 5 was undertaken

   “…to clarify that the decisions taken by the second referee are of equal validity to those taken by the first referee.”
   [ibid.]

   b. Your presenter will also explain how the roles of the two referees differ - make notes.

6. Finally … brief mention of the Technical Area’s impact on the roles of referees. This will be dealt with in more detail in the next unit.
LAW 6 - THE ASSISTANT REFEREES

1. The timekeeper and the third referee shall be positioned off the pitch, level with the halfway line and on the same side as the substitution zones. Use your Law book to list six of their main duties. Discuss these once the class has completed the task.

THE TIMEKEEPER

THE THIRD REFEREE

2. We’ll now watch the relevant FIFA Futsal DVD chapters illustrating these Laws. It uses examples from the 2005 World Cup played in Chinese Taipei. A new version may become available during the currency of this documentation.
UNIT 3: LAWS 1-4

LEARNING OUTCOMES
On completion of this unit you will be able to:

- sketch a field of play, name its major components and specify the dimensions;
- list the qualities and measurements of a legal match ball;
- specify the number of players and substitutes in a team;
- describe player substitution procedures;
- list the basic equipment of a player;
- explain sanctions to be applied by the referee for common Law infringements.

UNIT CONTENTS
- Brief Review
- Law 1 - The Pitch
- Law 2 - The Ball
- Law 3 - The Number of Players
- Law 4 - The Players’ Equipment
- Viewing DVD

ASSESSMENT CRITERIA
- Workbook exercises and notations;
- Examination - Unit 7;
- If undertaking Part 2 officiating competencies are noted on checklists - Units 11, 14-15.
LAW 1 - THE PITCH

1. Time for a brief review, to raise issues and deal with Revision Sheets if set as a task.

2. Use your copy of the Law book to complete the diagram of the pitch, below. Insert all markings and record all dimensions.

3. Without looking at your diagram take a spare piece of paper and draw the pitch again from memory. How did you go?

4. Double check the goals and the characteristics of the pitch's surface - record the special features about them.

   Goals

   Pitch surface
AS A REFEREE YOU HAVE TO THINK FOR YOURSELF ON THE PITCH. THIS PROGRAM ALSO EXPECTS YOU TO THINK. IT’S CALLED …

BRAIN SIZZLING!

Here is the first, BUT DON’T BURN-OUT COMPLETELY!

4. You turn up at a centre. What things MUST be present? What shortcomings would you TRY to get fixed? What would you do AFTER the match? Three important elements to remember are:
   a. the venue must meet the requirements of the Laws;
   b. the conditions must be fair; and
   c. neither you nor a colleague want the same problems next week!

MUST BE THERE:

...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................

TRY TO GET FIXED:

...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................

WHAT I’LL DO AFTER THE GAME:

...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................

5. Use your Law book to check arrangements for the people in the TA and on team benches.

...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................
...........................................................
LAW 2 - THE BALL

1. The Laws of the Game have specific requirements for the match balls. Once again use your Law book to discover and record the following:

- SHAPE ........................................................................................................................................
- MATERIAL ........................................................................................................................................
- CIRCUMFERENCE ...........................................................................................................................
- WEIGHT ...........................................................................................................................................
- PRESSURE .........................................................................................................................................

LAW 3 - THE NUMBER OF PLAYERS

A team has a maximum of 5 players on the pitch at any one time. But, surprise, surprise, it isn’t that simple! So, once again it is:

BRAIN SIZZLING TIME

1. You turn up at a centre to discover that:
   - one team has only 2 players, but both teams want to play; OR
   - one team wants to play with 5 players and no goalkeeper; OR
   - no one knows how many substitutes are allowed in this competition.

Aagghh! What are you going to do? Research your Law book to find out how to respond.

a. Only 2 players are available:
   ....................................................................................................................................................
   ....................................................................................................................................................

b. One team has 5 players but no goalkeeper:
   ....................................................................................................................................................
   ....................................................................................................................................................

c. You’re asked for the number of substitutes allowed. Your answer is: ..............................
2. When is a substitution allowed to be made?

3. You notice that a substitute enters the pitch before the player being replaced has completely left the pitch. What should you do?

LAW 4 - THE PLAYERS’ EQUIPMENT

BRAIN SIZZLING TIME

1. We know that every team has its own uniform. We also know that players in different sports use different equipment and wear different clothing. So let’s check some aspects of this Law. Oh, by the way: do remember that:
   - the equipment must meet the requirements of the Laws;
   - the conditions must be fair; and
   - you and your colleagues don't want the same problems next week.

2. Firstly, a few facts for you:
   - Safety
     A player must not use equipment or wear anything that is dangerous to self or another player, including any kind of jewellery. Your presenter will expand on this - make notes.

   - Jersey or shirt
     A 2005 requirement that a number between 1 and 15 must appear on the back of the shirts was been dropped from subsequent editions of the Law book. However, that number range is still commonly used.
• Shinguards
  Must be entirely covered by the socks which must be pulled up and must provide a reasonable degree of protection.

• Goalkeepers
  - The goalkeeper is permitted to wear long trousers.
  - Each goalkeeper shall wear colours that easily distinguish the keeper from the other players and the referees.
  - If an outfield player replaces a goalkeeper, the goalkeeper jersey worn by the player must be marked on the back with the player’s own number.

• Slogans and advertising
  Undergarments that contain these must not be revealed. A Team whose compulsory equipment contains them is subject to sanction locally and/or by FIFA.

3. Time to do some research.
   a. List the items that Law 4 say are COMPULSORY for all players?

   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................

   b. What do you think you should do about players’ JEWELLERY, SHINGUARDS AND FOOTWEAR [remember your risk management duties];

   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................

   c. If the two keepers are wearing identically coloured shirts what should you do if neither has another suitable shirt?

   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................

   d. Finally: what do you do about THERMAL UNDERSHORTS [‘Skins’]?

   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................
   ........................................................................................................................................................................

4. We’ll now watch the FIFA DVD chapters illustrating this group of Laws.
UNIT 4: REVIEW; LAWS 7 - 10

LEARNING OUTCOMES
On completion of this unit you will be able to:

- state the length of a match, length of intervals and permitted extensions of playing time;
- explain how a match is started and restarted;
- define a goal and how it is scored;
- specify any sanctions to be applied for infringements of these Laws.

UNIT CONTENTS

   - Law 8 - The Start and Restart of Play

3. DVD chapters

ASSESSMENT CRITERIA
- Workbook exercises and notations;
- Examination - Unit 7;
- If undertaking Part 2 officiating competencies are noted on checklists - Units 11, 14-15.
LAW 7 - THE DURATION OF THE MATCH

1. Brief Review and/or revision sheets - raise your questions now!

2. Introduction
The Laws we are studying apply across the World. FIFA has said that it is possible to modify some Laws as noted on page 3 of the 2008 Law book. Note the groups, below.

Some local Futsal organisations have made further modifications to some Laws for their competitions. This is often the case with Law 7, despite the fact that it appears to be contrary to FIFA’s intentions.

Before officiating you need to check the length of playing periods, whether the clock is stopped when the ball is out of play, whether time is able to be added on for stoppages, etc. Tight schedules and limited venues are often the reason given for these modifications.

2. Open your Law book at Law 7. Some of the text from this Law is reprinted or paraphrased below. Keep in mind that you are dealing with international matches. Put in the key words that are missing.

   a. “The match shall last two .......................................... periods of ........ minutes.”

   b. Players are ............................................. to an interval at half-time.

   c. “The duration of either half shall be ...........................................a penalty kick to be taken, or a direct free kick to be taken against a team that has committed more than 5 accumulated fouls.”

3. Now assume that local rules apply. What do you think these statements might say?

   a. Normal times apply unless otherwise..............................between the referees and the participating teams. An agreement to alter the periods of play must .............................................................and must comply with local competition rules.”

   b. “The duration of the half-time interval may be altered only with the ....................

   c. “Allowance is made in either period for all time lost through:

   d. “The allowance for time lost is added at the .........................................................

MORE BRAIN SIZZLING!
4. The match is extended for a penalty-kick to be taken. The ball strikes the cross bar and rebounds to an attacker who kicks it into the goal. What should you do?

5. Time Out - Complete these statements:
   a. “Teams are entitled to a...........................................................................in...........................................................................”
   b. [a time out] “…is permitted only when ...........................................................................................................................
   c. “When a time out is granted the substitutes shall............................................................................................”

6. Finally, you’ll broadly cover the Procedures to determine the winner of a match section of the Law book. This procedure will be studied in more detail during Part 2.
1. Listed below are the steps that have to occur at the start of play. Using your Law book identify the correct order of the nine steps - number the first step [1], the second step [2], and so on.

☐ The ball is in play when it is kicked and moves forward.

☐ The team that lost the toss takes the kick-off.

☐ The referee gives a signal.

☐ All players are in their own half of the pitch.

☐ The ball is placed stationary on the centre mark.

☐ The opponents of the team taking the kick are in their own half and at least 3 metres from the ball.

☐ A coin is tossed.

☐ The teams go to the correct end of the field.

☐ The kicker is not allowed to touch the ball for a second time until it has been touched by another player.

2. Now discuss the order of events:
   • at a restart after a goal; and
   • for the start of the second half.

3. What do you think must happen if the player who is taking the kick-off touches the ball a second time before it has been touched by another player?

   ……………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………

   ……………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………

   ……………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………………

4. Finally, we’ll check out the use of Dropped Ball restarts.
LAW 9 - THE BALL IN AND OUT OF PLAY

Your presenter will briefly discuss with you the difficulties of judging when the ball is in and out of play. Your position in relationship to the ball and the line is crucial.

Now open your Law book at Law 9. There are several important points. Just to check that you are still awake [zzzz...] they have been left out of the statements printed below. Write them in - like NOW! [Er ... this might be set as a homework exercise.]

1. “The ball is out of play when ...”
   a. it crosses the goal line or the touch line whether or

   b. play has been

   c. it hits

2. “The ball is in play at all other times including when ...”
   a. it rebounds off a goalpost or the crossbar onto
   b. it rebounds off either of while they are on the pitch.”

3. When the ball hits the ceiling play shall be restarted with of the team that last touched the ball.
1. Law 10 and Law 9 have some similarities. Law 10 is also concerned with the whole of the ball, the position of the ball relative to the goalposts and crossbar; plus Fair Play.

2. Keeping the above issues in mind use your Law book to list the main points of this Law.

A goal IS SCORED when:

YEP, REV UP YOUR BRAIN!

A goal IS NOT SCORED when:

3. Watch the Futsal DVD chapters covering these four Laws.
UNIT 5: LAW 12 - FOULS AND MISCONDUCT

LEARNING OUTCOMES
This crucial Law deals with fouls and misconduct. It also draws a distinction between Direct Free Kicks [DFK] and Indirect Free Kicks [IFK]. On completion of this unit you will be able to:

- analyse and describe the key differences between DFK and IFK offences;
- list the offences that are punished with the award of a DFK;
- illustrate the links between match officials’ decision making and their ethical and professional behavioural standards;
- describe player actions that are careless, or reckless, or excessively forceful;
- identify the offences that are punished with the award of an IFK;
- explain the concept of unsporting behaviour;
- explain the disciplinary sanctions that can be applied by the referee.

UNIT CONTENTS
1. Review
In addition to revisiting any areas of concern to you it’s also time to refer you to the Additional instructions and guidelines for referees section of the Law book. This section provides assistance in the interpretation of Laws and is often overlooked as a valuable source. Field Football’s FIFA Laws of the Game 2008-09 contains a substantially more detailed section. It has been renamed Interpretations of the Laws of the Game and Guidelines for Referees. Many sections are applicable to Futsal match officials. The Law book is accessible on FIFA’s website www.fifa.com [at Sept 2008]. We'll return to this in Part 2.

2. Law 12 - Fouls and Misconduct
The Laws describe the conditions under which the game can be played. Law 12 specifically tells us which types of player actions are not permitted.

FOULS
- A foul is something that is unfair; an action that is not allowed under the Laws.
- Foul play is punished by awarding a free kick against the offending player’s team.

MISCONDUCT
- Misconduct is a type of behaviour, action or attitude that is not allowed.
- Misconduct is punished by either cautioning or sending-off the offending player.

Sometimes fouls and misconduct occur at the same time. If so, a free kick is awarded against the offending player’s team; AND the player receives a personal sanction by being cautioned or sent off.
3. Fouls and Free Kicks
There are two types of free kicks: Indirect and Direct. The Law explains how they differ. But, before we do that it is time to have another:

BRAIN SIZZZZZZZZZLE...

For your first task [see next page] consult your Law book and write down all the offences committed by players punished by a Direct Free Kick [DFK] against their team.

Here are two clues for you.
- Most direct free kicks result from physical contact being made;
- There are 10 DFKs listed in this Law - one group of 7 and another group of 3.

After you have completed this exercise complete a similar task for Indirect Free Kicks [IFK]. There will be some clues when you get to that section.

4. Ethics and Professionalism
As we work through your responses we’ll examine again the match officials’ ethical and professional behaviour [part of the OGPs]. The effective application and interpretation of this Law requires:
- good communication skills;
- team work;
- techniques to minimise conflict;
- methods to deal with abuse.

Make your key notes here:
DIRECT FREE KICKS

INDIRECT FREE KICKS

Clues: Generally there is no body contact; nine offences are listed in this Law; four of them deal with offences committed by the goalkeeper.
5. Misconduct and Personal Card Sanctions
Cautions are public warnings to players that their behaviour is not acceptable. The showing of the Yellow Card indicates to everyone that the player has been ‘Cautioned’.

A player is expelled from the pitch [= sent off] for serious incidents that involve: attacks on opponents; or behaviour that infringes the spirit of the game; or for receiving two cautions in the same game. A Red Card is shown. YC and RC offences are also listed for substitutes.

Use your Law book and list all player offences punished with either a caution or a send off.

LEARNING OUTCOMES
On completion of this unit you will be able to:

- accurately summarise the content of these Laws;
- describe the procedures required for the following restarts: DFK; IFK; Penalty Kick; Direct Free Kick without a Defensive Wall; Kick-In; Goal Clearance and Corner Kick;
- cite the various sanctions to be applied for infringements of these Laws;

'We're starting up an amateur football team.
Would you care to join?'
'I would, yes, but I'm afraid I don't know the first thing about football.'
'That's all right. We need a referee as well.'

[www.soccerjokes.com/referees]
1. Begin with another review and revision sheet check if appropriate.

2. Here are some facts about free kicks:
   a. Free kicks are either direct or indirect.
   b. For both direct and indirect free kicks the ball must be stationary when the kick is taken; and the kicker may not touch the ball a second time until it has been touched by another player.
   c. If a direct kick is kicked directly into the opponents' goal, a goal is awarded.
   d. At an indirect free kick a goal may be scored only if the ball touches another player before it enters the goal.
   e. Position of free kick: all opponents must be at least 5m from the ball until it is in play.

2. Working in small groups and using your Law books complete the statements. Don't forget that other sections of the Law book may have interpretations and instructions that apply to some Laws, such as referee signals. And just to be nasty, not all of the following statements appear in the Law!
   a. "The ball shall be deemed in play [at free kick] after it has ..."
      ______________________________________________________
   b. When the kick is taken "... the kicker may not ..."
      ______________________________________________________
   c. "If a DFK is directly enters the opponent’s goal ..."
      ______________________________________________________
   d. If a DFK outside the PA is kicked directly into the kicker’s own goal ...
      ______________________________________________________
   e. "The referees indicate an IFK by ..."
      ______________________________________________________
   f. A goal can only be scored from an IFK "... if the ball ..."
      ______________________________________________________
   g. If an IFK is kicked directly into the opponent’s goal, a ... is awarded.
3. A direct or indirect free kick is awarded to the defending team in their own penalty area. What are the four conditions that must be met for the kick to be taken correctly?

   a. ..........................................................
   b. ..........................................................
   c. ..........................................................
   d. ..........................................................

4. An indirect free kick is awarded to the attacking team in their opponent's penalty area. What are the two conditions that must be met for the kick to be taken correctly?

   a. ..........................................................
   b. ..........................................................

5. The Laws specify three conditions for any free kicks taken outside the penalty area. What are they?

   a. ..........................................................
   b. ..........................................................
   c. ..........................................................

6. What should you do if the team awarded a free kick takes longer than 4 seconds to play the ball?

   ........................................................................
   ........................................................................
   ........................................................................
   ........................................................................
   ........................................................................

Accumulated Fouls

Work with your colleagues to complete the following statements or answer the questions.

1. First Five Accumulated Fouls
   a. “the players of the opposing team may ..........................................................”

   b. “all opponents shall be situated .................................................................”

   c. “Accumulated fouls are those punished by ..................................................”

   d. Summarise when the referees may allow play to continue.

   .................................................................................................................................

   .................................................................................................................................

   .................................................................................................................................

   .................................................................................................................................

   e. If extra time is played what happens to the accumulated fouls from the second half?

      .................................................................................................................................

      .....      .................................................................................................................................

   f. When is the free kick taken from the second penalty mark?

   .................................................................................................................................

   .................................................................................................................................

2. Here’s a summary of the procedures for the sixth and subsequent accumulated fouls.

   ➢ The player taking the free kick must kick the ball with the intention of scoring a goal and may not pass the ball to another player.

   ➢ Once the free kick has been taken no player may touch the ball until it has been touched by the defending goalkeeper or rebounded from the goalpost or crossbar, or has left the pitch.

   ➢ If a player commits the sixth foul of his team in the opposition team’s half or in his own half in the area between the halfway lines and an imaginary line passing through the second penalty mark 10 metres from the goal line, the free kick is taken from this second penalty mark.

   ➢ If a player commits the sixth foul of his team in his own half of the pitch between the 10 metre line and the goal line, but outside the penalty area, the team awarded the free kick may choose whether to take it from the second penalty mark or from the place where the infringement occurred.

   ➢ Additional time must be allowed for a direct free kick to be taken at the end of each half or at the end of each period of extra time.
3. Now try these questions with your colleagues.

a. “The player taking the kick shall be ..............................................................”

b. “The goalkeeper shall remain ........................................................................ and at a distance...............................................................................................”

c. “All the other players shall remain on the pitch behind an imaginary line that is level with........................................................................................................... and outside the ......................... They shall remain .......................from the ball and may not ....................................................taking the free kick.”

d. “The player taking the free kick shall kick the ball with the ...........................
   of..................................................and may not pass the ball to ......................”

e. What action do you take if a player of the defending team infringes this Law and a goal is scored?
   ..........................................................................................................................

f. What action do you take if a player of the defending team infringes the Law and a goal is not scored?
   ..........................................................................................................................

g. What action do you take if a player of the same team as the player taking the free kick infringes this law and a goal is scored?
   ..........................................................................................................................

h. What action do you take if a player of the same team as the player taking the free kick infringes this Law and a goal is not scored?
   ..........................................................................................................................

i. “If a player commits his team’s 6th foul in his own half of the pitch between the 10m line and the goal line but outside the PA, the team taking the FK shall decide whether to take it from ...............................................................”
4. Free Kick Positions
On the following four simplified pitch diagrams “X” shows where an incident occurred outside the penalty area. Add the penalty areas, centre circle and centre mark to each diagram and answer each question.

a. The team running from right to left has committed 5 accumulated fouls. Their next foul is for tripping an opponent. The $\times$ shows the position of the foul. Circle the position from where the free kick should be taken.

\[ \begin{array}{c}
\times \\
\end{array} \quad \begin{array}{c}
\end{array} \]

b. A member of the same team commits its next foul by kicking an opponent. The position of the foul is marked by $\times$. Circle the position from where the free kick should be taken.

```
\[ \begin{array}{c}
\end{array} \quad \begin{array}{c}
\times \\
\end{array} \]
c. The team running from right to left committed its 6th foul by impeding an opponent.
The X shows the position of the foul. Circle the position from where the free kick should be taken.

\[
\begin{array}{c}
\times \\
\end{array}

d. The same team commits its next foul, ruled as dangerous play. The position of the foul is marked by the X; again you need to circle where the free kick would be taken.

\[
\begin{array}{c}
\times \\
\end{array}
1. Below is an outline of half a pitch. Study Law 14 and put in all the pitch markings and other items that are needed before the penalty kick can be taken correctly. Clue: missing items might include penalty area, goal, other pitch markings, ball, players, referees, etc.

2. Sometimes in a match it’s best to follow a set routine. This will not only help ensure the restart is achieved with minimal fuss but will also strengthen your communications with the players. The Penalty Kick restart is one such case. Your presenter will complete this Law by role playing a recommended sequence of steps - see next page.
THE PENALTY KICK SEQUENCE

- Observe the incident.
- Decide whether to stop the match or play on. If you decide to stop ...
- Whistle!
- Point to the penalty mark.
- If a caution [YC] or expulsion [RC] is necessary do this now.
- Face the players, moving back if necessary.
- Use your hand as a stop sign to discourage players coming over to argue with you; caution if necessary.
- Move to the penalty mark.
- Ask: “Who is taking the kick?”
- Have that player place the ball. If you are not happy with the ball placement get the player to move it - DO NOT TOUCH the ball yourself.
- Show the kicker your whistle to indicate that the player must wait for you to signal the restart.
- Tell the keeper to stand on the goal line between the goal posts facing the kicker and stay there until the ball is put into play.
- Ensure all the other players, other than the goalkeeper and the player taking the kick, are on the pitch, outside the penalty area, behind or to the sides of the penalty mark and at least 5m from it.
- Tell them: No one moves beyond here [the imaginary line] until the kick is taken. No one!
- Take up your position on the touch line opposite the penalty mark.
- Check that the goalkeeper is still standing on the goal line.
- Face the kicker and blow your whistle when all is in readiness.
- Watch for encroachment [= movement into the prohibited area before the ball is put into play] and keep watching the player taking the penalty kick.
- As the kicker places a foot next to the ball turn your head slightly towards the keeper. If the keeper hasn’t moved forward by this stage any subsequent keeper movement will be irrelevant.
LAW 15 - THE KICK-IN

1. The kick-in is a method of restarting play. Refer to the Law and check out:
   a. When a kick-in is used ...........................................................................................................

   b. If a goal can be scored directly from a kick-in?  YES  NO

   c. Where a kick-in is taken from when play is stopped because the ball hit the ceiling.

2. The steps required for a correct kick-in are listed below, but the author has stuffed up the order - again! Your job is to number the steps in the correct order. You can get some help by using your Law book and consulting colleagues.

   - The kicker may not touch the ball again until it has touched another player.
   - The kick-in is awarded to the opponents of the player who last touched the ball.
   - The kicker may kick the ball back into play in any direction.
   - A kick-in is awarded when the whole of the ball passes over the touch line, either on the ground or in the air, or hits the ceiling.
   - The ball is placed on the touch line, stationary.
   - At the moment of taking the kick-in the kicker shall have part of one foot on the touch line or off the pitch.
   - The ball is in play immediately after it has been kicked or touched.
   - A kick-in is taken from the point where the ball crossed the touch line.
   - Player taking the kick-in must do so within 4 secs of taking possession of the ball.
   - A goal cannot be scored directly from a kick-in.
   - All opponents must stand at least 5m from the ball as the kick-in is taken.
LAW 16 - THE GOAL CLEARANCE

This Law may appear simple but there are still some issues to discuss and clarify. Use your Law book to answer the questions and complete the statements.

1. When is a goal clearance awarded? ..........................................................................................................

2. What procedures have to be used to take a goal clearance?
   a. .........................................................................................................................................................
   b. .........................................................................................................................................................
   c. .........................................................................................................................................................
   d. .........................................................................................................................................................

3. What happens if the ball isn’t thrown directly out of the penalty area?.........................................................

4. What happens if, once the ball is in play, the goalkeeper touches the ball again (except with his hands) in his own half of the pitch after it has been deliberately kicked to him by a team-mate without an opponent playing or touching it? -

5. “If the goal clearance is not taken within ....................... of the goalkeeper taking possession of the ball:..................................................
LAW 17 - THE CORNER KICK

You’ve made it to the final Law! Well done!

1. Laws 16 and 17 have several common elements and several differences. Use your Law book to research and record the differences and similarities. Ask your presenter for help if this is a bit puzzling.

SIMILARITIES

UNIT 7: ASSESSMENT AND PROGRAM EVALUATION

1. EXAMINATION PAPER
There is no time limit. Please write your answers on the answer sheet supplied and hand it to your presenter when you have finished and checked.

2. TRAINING PROGRAM EVALUATION
Please provide feedback about Part 1 of this training program if you are not intending to join a referee group immediately to undertake Part 2 of the program and begin officiating. Complete the Form before you leave and hand it to your presenter - thank you!

If you will be continuing with the program you will have an opportunity to provide feedback at the end of Part 2.

If you pass the Part 1 examination and leave the program now you may be eligible to receive an FFA Futsal Referee Theory Certificate. However, as stressed earlier you are not yet qualified as a Futsal match official.

4. JOINING A REFEREE GROUP
Your presenter has been asked to let you know about referee groups in your area. You are encouraged to join a group and undertake Part 2 the program. Once you have completed the pre-officiating units you can begin officiating. It is reasonable to expect that you are likely to complete the whole program within one season of you joining a group.

3. FFA REGISTRATION FORM
You will be asked to complete FFA’s Match Official Registration Form [NRR10] once you have joined a recognised referee group.

Best wishes!

INTRODUCTION

Our society expects high standards of behaviour from all people involved in sport and it is vital these expectations are met and the integrity of sport maintained. Regardless of the nature of a person’s involvement in sport, The Essence of Australian Sport provides four guiding principles that lead to appropriate behaviour: Fairness, Respect, Responsibility and Safety. The following Template Code of Behaviour has been developed to reflect and uphold these principles and assist in retaining the integrity and enjoyable aspects of sport.

The Australian Sports Commission (ASC) has previously publicised a number of different Codes of Behaviour / Conduct / Ethics that were utilised by sporting organisations... Based on feedback from the sport industry ...the ASC has reviewed the various suggested Codes and developed a template that is consistent and applicable to all roles and levels within all sports. The ASC will also continue to provide the Junior Sport Codes of Behaviour for organisations and activities that principally deal with children and young people...

In consistently enforcing the Code, organisations will assist in providing safe and appropriate environments and quality services to their members, stakeholders and customers.
